BRIEF OVERVIEW

AULI CHOPTA

Auli and Chopta are two stunning hill destinations located in the Indian state of Uttarakhand, known for their breathtaking natural beauty, adventure opportunities, and serene environment. Auli, often called the “Skiing Capital of India,” lies in the Chamoli district and sits at an altitude of around 2,800 meters. Surrounded by snow-clad peaks like Nanda Devi and Mana Parvat, Auli offers panoramic views of the Himalayas. In winter, it transforms into a world-class skiing destination, attracting adventure seekers from across the globe. The Auli Ropeway—one of Asia’s longest—and the artificial lake add to its charm. During summer, Auli becomes a lush meadow ideal for trekking and camping. Chopta, situated about 140 kilometers from Auli, is known as the “Mini Switzerland of Uttarakhand.” Nestled in the Kedarnath Wildlife Sanctuary at an elevation of around 2,680 meters, it serves as the base for treks to Tungnath (the world’s highest Shiva temple) and Chandrashila peak, offering mesmerizing sunrise views over the Himalayas. Together, Auli and Chopta present a perfect blend of adventure, spirituality, and tranquility. Their unspoiled landscapes, rich biodiversity, and peaceful ambiance make them ideal destinations for nature lovers, trekkers, and anyone seeking a refreshing Himalayan escape.

We had booked the package via tourmyholiday for Kedarnath and Badrinath, Yamunotri & Gangotri. We were overall satisfied and happy, but I did share my feedback with Mr. Ashish already that the hotels and driver were awesome. I will definitely recommend you to the others in my family and friends. Thanks for making our Chardham trip memorable.
